Coin Gold Decorated Glassware

The craze for this rich glassware has become widespread, and in order to be in fashion one must own a piece or two. Doesn't cost much, either.

The glass is the finest Bohemian blown crystal, with deep intaglio engravings of the most intricate designs, which are backed with genuine coin gold leaf, producing an effect that is unequalled in richness.

A great variety of bonbon dishes and small nappies, costing but a dollar or two, are the popular selling articles with us.

BEAUTIES OF COMPASS LAKE

AN IDEAL SPOT THAT IS SOUGHT BY LOVERS OF NATURE IN LARGE NUMBERS.

Special to The Journal

Compass Lake, Dec. 15.—Some time ago we tried to give you a faint idea of beautiful Compass Lake, in Jackson county, Fla. This lake is situated on the top of a very high hill, which has a thick growth of pine and oaks and many kinds of other trees to adorn it.

The main body of the lake is as perfectly round as a dollar, is about three miles across and seven miles around and will average twenty-five feet deep, although in places no bottom has ever been sounded. Joining this lake on the north is a smaller one of oval shape which is indeed beautiful with its thick growth of water lilies and small trees bordering its edges.

In these lakes are all kinds of fresh water fish; a number of trout have been caught there weighing eight to ten pounds and in fishing season many people from all parts of Florida, Alabama and Georgia come with tents and camp around this lake making so many camp fires at night that one would think it lighted by an electric plant.

These lakes are supported by numerous springs and there is a stream of water flowing continually from them which now turns a wheel of two hundred horse power to which a vast lot of machinery is being attached. The prospect is that this will be one of the largest mills in West Florida, comprising saw, shingle and planing machines, cotton gin, etc.

Around this lake for several miles is some of the finest timbered land in the state, some of which is subject to homestead entry and it is being taken up very rapidly by people who are seeking good homes in a healthy, balmy atmosphere.

A town has been laid out comprising two hundred acres, more or less, and lots are being sold rapidly. Three thousand dollars has been donated for the construction of a college and a neat sum for a fine church building. Both of these buildings will be under construction in the near future.

The Dothan & Gulf railroad, which is rapidly being built, will reach this point and this now very small town with all its natural beauties and advantages, will then rival any inland town in the state. Messrs. Thomas and Williams will have a turpentine still in operation there in a few weeks.

On the east and west sides of this lake five acres are reserved for parks which the citizens are trimming and improving and with the natural growth of trees, flowers and plants which they have will very soon be scenes of marvelous beauty.

Coughing Spell Caused Death.

"Harry Duckwell, aged 25 years, choked to death early yesterday morning at his home, in the presence of his wife and child. He contracted a slight cold a few days ago and paid but little attention to it. Yesterday morning he was seized with a fit of coughing which continued for some time. His wife sent for physician but before he could arrive, another coughing spell came on and Duckwell died from suffocation.—St. Louis Globe Democrat, Dec. 1st, 1901."

Ballard's Horehound Syrup would have saved him. 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by all druggists.

Amusements

"A Madcap Princess." It is said that Ludwig Englander, the musical composer of a large number of American made comic operas, has never written more catchy melodies than he has given music lovers in "A Madcap Princess." When Miss Sophie Brandt and her company of sixty singers are heard in that opera next Tuesday evening it is promised that pretty waltz and march tunes will abound. When "A Madcap Princess" was played at the Knickerbocker Theatre, New York, the songs, "A Dashing Cavalier," "Lovely Women," "Kings of the Sea," "Happy Island" and other hits were paid the special compliment of a whistling accompaniment by the gallery gods. The Sophie Brandt Opera Co., boasts of many fine singers and a chorus of beauties with well trained voices. The scenic and costume investment is said to be amazingly complete for the three acts of "A Madcap Princess."

PRETTY WEDDING AT MUSCOGEE

Special to The Journal.

Muscogee, Dec. 15.—A very pretty wedding took place on Thursday night at the Muscogee Union church, when Miss Belle Henderson and Mr. Clarence Bradley were united in marriage by Rev. Tate of Roberts, Fla. The church was prettily decorated in green and white.

The bridal party consisted of Miss Belle Henderson, becomingly gowned in cream broad cloth trimmed with lace and carrying a bouquet of white carnations; Mr. Price Henderson, brother of the bride, who acted as best man, and Miss Ida Davis as bridesmaid, gowned in cream henrietta and carrying a bouquet of pink carnations. Mr. Walter White and Mr. Louis Nellums were ushers, and Mrs. Ed. Price presided at the organ.

After the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. J. R. Henderson. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bradley join in wishing them the greatest happiness and prosperity.

Pirating Foley's Honey and Tar.

Foley & Co., Chicago, originated Honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and on account of the great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey and Tar many imitations are offered for the genuine. These worthless imitations have similar sounding names. Beware of them. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar is in a yellow package. Ask for it, and refuse any substitute. It is the best remedy for coughs and colds. W. A. D'Alemberte, druggist and apothecary.

GRIM TRAGEDY OF THE GULF

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE OF SCHOONER ROBERT CENTER, BOUND FOR CUBA.

The Tampa Globe says:

One of the most deplorable tragedies recently recorded in this section is the mysterious disappearance of the schooner Robert Center, which dropped out of sight off the Florida coast the early part of the year, with a full cargo aboard, and when manned by a crew of six men.

The Robert Center was loaded in Tampa with lumber for the port of Sagua la grande, on the north coast of Cuba. The vessel was owned by Miguel Serra, and at the time of sailing had a crew of five men, outside of the captain, aboard.

On January 2d, the Robert Center sailed from Tampa on the southbound trip. All seemed propitious for a successful and satisfactory voyage, and not a suspicion of the terrible end awaiting the unfortunate sailors crossed their minds at this juncture. On January 10th, the Center passed Key West, and all seemed well aboard the vessel. This was the last seen or heard of the vessel to this day.

When off Key West the vessel was only 140 miles from its destination and the sailing from that point forward seemed open and without any more than the average dangers besetting those "who go down to the sea in ships."

Yet in that short distance of 140 miles the vessel was swallowed up completely, and to this day no one knows exactly what became of the unfortunate vessel. Of the crew of six, not a single one has ever been seen alive since the time the vessel was sighted off Key West; to this day not as much as a stick of timber, or even a board bearing a name, has been found that could in any way indicate the end of the unfortunate vessel.

The affair is one of the grim tragedies of the sea, and ranks with many more mysteries that have been chronicled from time to time. Not the least pathetic feature of the affair is the fact that Capt. Serra left a wife and family in this city to mourn his loss.
